DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to the election, received 4/13/05, in which applicant elected group I, claims 1-18. Applicant has cancelled claims 1-3, 5-12, 17-18, and 23; and amended claims 4, 14-16, 19, 21, and 22. Claims 19-22 and 24 are withdrawn as being drawn to non-elected subject matter.

Claims 4 and 13-16 are pending and will be examined as they read upon the elected species of example 3.13 (page 185) of the instant specification.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statements, received 2/26/02 and 11/20/02, are acknowledged. A signed copy of each is included hereto.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4 and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1654

Claims 4 and 13 recite "... a non-peptide radical addressing an intergrin receptor..." this is vague and indefinite as to the metes and bounds of the non-peptide radical interaction with the intergrin receptor.

Claims 14-16 recite "...the conjugate characterized in that..." this is vague and indefinite as to the metes and bounds of the conjugate characterization since characterized does not exclude additional, unrecited steps, see MPEP 2111.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 4 and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lerchen (USPN 6,271,342)

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Art Unit: 1654

The instant invention is drawn to a conjugate having a radical of formula III, where camptothecin or 9-aminocamptothecin is linked to appropriate carbohydrate units, see, i.e., for example, page 185, example 3.13 of the instant specification.

Lerchen discloses glycoconjugates with camptothecin, see, i.e., for example, abstract and column 126, examples 18.

Therefore, the reference is deemed to anticipate the instant claims above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 13-16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over by Lerchen (USPN 6,271,342).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the reference is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2).

The reference is relied upon for the reasons discussed supra.

Based upon the beneficial overall teachings provided by Lerchen with respect to such conjugates, if not expressly taught, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to adjust particular working conditions therein (e.g., cytostatics modified with sugar)- i.e., the adjustment of particular conventional working conditions is deemed merely a matter of judicious selection and routine optimization which is well within the purview of the skilled artisan.

From the teachings of the reference, it is apparent that one of ordinary skill in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of success in producing the claimed invention. Therefore, the invention as a whole was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, as evidenced by the reference, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Conclusion
